

Dear Christopher & the Dine.TO team,

Thank you once again for your help and support in ensuring that Markham Event Centre is getting its money's worth in campaigning on Dine.TO.

In the past, we have advertised on several different Online Directories and I am happy to say that Dine.TO is one of the only ones that we still advertise on and have stuck with in the past couple of years. Dine.TO is able to offer the end-user an online directory experience like few directories can out there in the virtual world. Most importantly, the proactive improvements to their website and their ability to adapt to the internet are things that impresses me most. These guys know what they are doing and they do a pretty good job in accomplishing their feats, and their employees reflect just that.

I certainly have no hesitation in recommending Christopher and the Dine.TO team to anybody and thank you once again to the Customer Service & Technological teams for their help and support.

Best Regards,
